

to campus

Civil Engineering and Geosciences

School Office
Cassie Building
Newcastle University
Newcastle upon Tyne
NE1 7RU
t: 0191 222 6323

The school is housed in two almost adjacent purpose designed buildings, Cassie and Drummond, and has a share in Devonshire which is adjacent to both. The Devonshire houses the Institutes for Research into Environment and Sustainability and the Informatics Institute.

Pedestrian and assisted wheelchair access

The east route to the Drummond, Cassie and Devonshire Buildings (blue line) is preferable for assisted or motorised wheelchair users - it has a long, although not steep, incline. The alternative route (black line) has more roads to cross but less of an incline.

The Cassie Building wheelchair entrance faces onto the end of Devonshire Terrace and there is a lift to all floors. The main entrance is around the corner to the left, off Kensington Terrace.

The entrance to the Drummond Building faces onto the Devonshire car park. There is a lift to all floors.

The entrance to the Devonshire Building faces onto the end of Devonshire Terrace. Access to the public is restricted and you must phone the person you are visiting to let you through beyond the entrance. There is a lift to all floors.

For disability support please see:
www.ncl.ac.uk/students/wellbeing/disability-support/
www.ncl.ac.uk/postgraduate/support/wellbeing.htm

email: ceg@ncl.ac.uk • <http://www.ceb.ncl.ac.uk>